Miss Emma Tourdot was 18 years old on Sunday, and her many young friends secured Allen's hall Saturday night in which to make merry and celebrate the event. Dancing, plays and refreshments were part of the night's diversions, in which all willingly took part. Those from here who attended the supposed boxing match in Salem Monday night, between Gordy Dunn of Millville and Billy Conors of Youngstown, were greatly disappointed and think it was a mere hugging match, and the Salem News says it was daughter, Maud Brain, of Flushing "about the worst exhibtion of boxing spent a few days at the home of that has ever been witnessed in Salem": but it is said that Dunn tried to put up a clean game. Helman of Lisbon and Mrs. Emmor Entriken of near Hart's church, Salem township. Funeral services were conducted from the home of her brother-in-law, G. S. Woods and his sister Carrie, on ac count of the afflictions yet remaining in the home where she died. The services were conducted at 1:30 Sat urday afternoon by her pastor, nev. M. C. Grimes of the Methodist church followed by interment inOakland cem etery, where kind hands laid her to await the general resurrection of the just. The funeral was largely tended by relatives and friends, and the floral tokens of respect were numerous and beautiful. She was familiarly called "Queenie Woods" and was loved and respected by all who knew her. All the relatives above named attended the funeral except er daughter, Mrs. L. J. Talbot Chattanooga, Tenn., who was detain ed on account of sickness. Four neph ews and two grandsons acted as hearers, as follows: Chas. H. Vodrey. Sheriff-Robert Wells Auditor-W. L. Crooks. Commission ers-John Conors, J. C. Billingsby Frank Dickey. Recorder-Sam Scott. By polling a big vote in cast Liverpool, his home city, Vodrey gained a lead of about 1000 over Morgan for prosecutor. Morgan ran well in the northern end of the county and in all the country precincts. The selection of Wells for sheriff was somewhat of a surprise in this end of the county, and it is thought that if this township had not had three other candidates on the ticket Dalrymple would have stood a better chance. Richard Wilkinson has completed his assessment of this precinct of Salem township and has made his re port to the county auditor at Lisbon, and from his report the following summary is gleaned: The increase in valuations in this precinct over last year is $26,310, making the grand total this year $122,100. We have 246 horses valued at $24.110: 525 cattle, valued at $17,310; 5 mules, at $450; 681 sheep, at $1,810; 313 hogs at $1.400. The value of all household goods, farming utensils and numer ous other articles are listed at $12, 580; 20 watches at $200; 29 pianos at $2,900. The automobiles are valued at $1,400. One dog was listed at $20, and 57 dogs at $1 apiece. In the line of statistics (not taxable) have 519 acres of wheat for this year's crop, as against 552 last year. Ensilage, 106 acres this year. In milk, there were 22,945 gallons pro duced last year, and 29,000 pounds of country butter made. The primary election Tuesday did not produce much enthusiasm in this village and a light vote was polled at all three precincts. The farmers had more important business in their corn and potato fields at home. While we of the town can sit around fletcher izing our tobacco and talk more poli tics than we know. The second pre cinct in Green township voted in the rear of Gilbert's store, and the usual vote has been 80, but on Tuesday 17 republicans and 3 democrats, ventured to town and exercised their franchise. I. A. Schnurrenberger R., and Homer Heintzel nan D. were named as county central committeemen. Har mon received all the democratic votes The republican presidential delegates received from 4 to 17 votes. At the north precinct of the village, in the Ballantine building, the republicans polled 23 votes and the democrats 3. were chosen on the county central committee. Judson Harmon took all the democrats and Emil Anderson got 16 of the republicans. At the Mayor's office, on the Columbiana county side, the republicans polled 99, the democrats 10 and socialists 4, many democrats and socialists having voted republican tickets, as there was no contest on their respective tick-ets. For sheriff, Dalrymple got 79, Wells 15, Breidenstine 2 and Post 1. For the legislature Tetlow got 79, White 33 and Smith 28. For Taft del-elgates, March got 32, Stambaugh 29, For prosecuting attorney, Morgan got

YOUNGSTOWN PARAGRAPHS

Weeks Doings Recorded by a Correspondent Who Knows How to Put

On the Frills. In the debate with Congressman Whitacre in the Park theater one night last week insurance commissioner E. H. Moore intimated that he was tired of official life and that he would soon arrange to return to Youngstown and resume his extensive law practice. The debate, by the way, was not exactly as hot as was expected, but as both gentlemen had their friends in the audience it may be guessed that they were not all pleased with what was said. It is said that a contractor engaged n laying concrete sidewalks in the city used 20 bags of fertilizer instead of cement on one stretch of walk. This caused a wag to remark that a nice crop of little sidewalks might be expected soon.

East Youngstown is to be invaded by a church. The municipality has 5,000 population and 48 saloons, but not a house of worship. The Baptist Missionary Society has had plans made for a $5,000 church and as soon as it is completed regular religious services will be held.

The democrats of this judicial district will send delegates to a convention to be held in this city June 15 to nominate a candidate for common pleas judge. The basis of represent-ation will be one delegate for each 500 votes or fraction of 250 or more votes cast for Gov. Harmon in 1910. Friends of the brilliant Thomas Mc-Namara are strongly urging him to accept the nomination. If there is any democrat who can win in this strongly republican district Thomas lighted him in an elder day.

John Betonovitch thought he wanted to die the other day and jumped from the South Avenue bridge into the Mahoning river to drown himself, but when the ice-cold water rolled up around his shirt band he weakened and called for help. It came, and John still lives. Lawyer W. S. Potts, for 30 years. editor of the Lisbon Patriot, has come to this city and opened an omce in the building so long occupied by Gen. Asa Jones and W. S. Anderson. While he is well along in life he is still vigorous of mind and body and believes he will be able to gather in a good practice even if the city is overwing with young and limbs of the law

There is a mighty sore bunch of candidates in this city. Every one of them evidently believed that success Tuesday was certain. But they learned to their sorrow that a bunch of fellows who had been promising them support were only kidding. It is the same old story of the vanquished paying the fiddler.

That new skyscraper hotel at the corner of Boardman and Hazel streets is going up by leaps and bounds, and by early fall the city will be in possession of such a tayern as she has long had on her mind. This city has so many employes that it is necessary to find quarters for them in buildings scattered over the town. Some day, though, a city hall big enough to house them all will be erected, but it must cover close to a square and reach high in the air. Thomas Monohan, who on Saturday was released from the county jail where he had been held on an insanity charge, committed suicide Monday by taking carbolic acid. This was the note found in his pocket: "Bury me any place. Dig a hole in the ground any place. It will be good enough for my old carcass. I don't want any funeral or mourners. Goodbye and God forgive me. Rev. Billy Sunday wil be here next Monday night and deliver one of his famous sermons in Trinity M. E. Church. He'll probably be told that Old Nick has been busy in the city since he was last here: One of the candidates who felt thathe was getting the worst of it at the hands of cops who were doing some plugging for their favorites got real nad and made quite a fuss about it. He declared that while Chief McDowell was not to blame for it that couditions were no better under the new administration than under the old regime. That just as many laces flourished as in the old days. But then the charge may not be justi-fied. There surely has been some cleaning up of the city during the past four months. An attempt was made to keep Joe Wess from voting in this city, the charge being made that he is a resident of Trumbull county. But Joe claims his residence is at the Tod House. At any rate, Joe was too foxy for the other fellows and got in his vote when the challenger placed on the job to head him off was investing in a sandwich. And, mind you, now, if Teddy lands that presidential job Mr. Wess will surely be a mighty power in this district, one that must be reckoned with by those ambitious to fill places that come by appointment. Joe is the only original Roosevelt man in this county and he can

Andrew J. Pollock is the oldest tive born resident of this city. I was born Dec. 2, 1828, and has se the city grown from a cross roads town to one of the largest and most important cities in Ohio.
